John Howard Society of the Fraser Valley (JHSFV)

A non-governmental organization and registered charity; works with and on behalf of prisoners, ex-prisoners, families and victims. The goal of the John Howard Society of the Fraser Valley is to understand and respond to problems of crime by working with those that have been, are or could be involved in the criminal justice system.

A transformative justice model guides the team's philosophical and practical approach. In keeping with this approach our work with individuals is client-centred and addresses interconnected risk and focuses on self-determination, strengths, and capabilities. See separate listings for the following: Community Services; Family House; Family Services; Sylvia's Family House; Prison Services.
